LAST MEETING:

On a pleasant, Southernly cool winter night, North Jackson Exchange members arrived at the clubhouse of the Colonial Country Club of Jackson for a festive Christmas gathering. A brightly lit tree and wreath decorated the room and small trees were on the tables. As we arrived, our gifts to be taken to the Hudspeth Center were placed on a table.

Members and guests enjoyed the musical talents of Dan Michael Colbert, pianist, as he played a wonderful selection of Christmas music. After a time of fellowship, Kathleen Jones, president, called on Ralph Brown to give the invocation; then Diane Sullivan led us in the Pledge of Allegiance to our flag. A delicious steak dinner was enjoyed with excellent service provided by the staff of the Country Club.

Kathy Jones next recognized our guests, Johnny Middleton, Mississippi District Secretary; Rebecca Middleton, District Director; Mary Jones; Betty Butler; and Annette Butler. Johnny and Rebecca made a few brief comments on Exchange, and all our guests were welcomed with a round of applause. Mentioned next were members with December birthdays—Jamiella Burnett, Diane Sullivan, and Susan Bragg.

Kathy presented several awards—a plaque to George Bragg, who was Exchangeite of the Year last year, and framed certificates to Jack Thacker, chairman of parking for Mistletoe Marketplace last month, and to James Gould for their hard work with Mistletoe planning. Kathy thanked Susan Bragg for decorating and finalizing plans for the Christmas party tonight, and all joined in with appreciative applause.

Ken Sullivan was then asked to present the committee's choice for Exchangeite of the Year for 2007. After speaking of this Exchangeite's work with the Exchange Club for many years, he surprised Katherine Gould with the annual trophy. Katherine thanked Ken, Kathy, and club members for the opportunity of working with them many times in the past and more in the future as we try to reach goals for Exchange in the community.

As the party was coming to a close, winning numbers were drawn for the Happy Bags, which were won by L.W. Jones and Janie Thacker. Susan and George Bragg also asked that we pick up ornament mementoes on the table by the door as we left. After asking for volunteers to park for the Mississippi State basketball game on January 5, we were dismissed with our motto, Unity for Service.

Congratulations to Kathy Jones on her marriage!

Thanks, George!

PRESIDENT'S COMMENTS:

First, I want to express my sympathies to George McCully on the loss of his wife, Margery. She will be missed by many in NJXC. Please keep George and his family in your prayers.

Regarding the Mid-Winter Conference (see upcoming events), "Buffalo Bob" Harb will be there. He is an attorney and a past National Exchange Club president and will be an entertaining speaker. The Conference will cost $30.00 until January 11, $40.00 after that date. A lot of fun things go on at Mid-Winter, so make up your mind about attending so we can send in our fees by the 11th.

Wishing everybody a great new year! And asking for your good wishes on my marriage!

Kathy Jones

Just a reminder:

Program chairs for January are Maxine Sullivan and Kathy Jones and for February are Jack and Janie Thacker.
